4. Sprungturmfestival

AUGUST 2019 - Darmstadt, Deutschland

Love after Love

The Sprungturm festival is an international and interdisciplinary arts festival in Darmstadt. It aims at finding connections among the disciplines of theater, music and fine art. During 6 days, splitted into two weekends, a changing program will be organized with more than 25 national / international artists / groups. The festival is organized by theaterquarantäne, a free theater group from Darmstadt.

Core

We want people to create and experience culture together, regardless of their background. We aim at creating a festival which draws on art and which develops into a shared experience for artists and visitors.

Orientation

We want to promote artists who are on the verge of designation, who use an inner desire as a basis for creative work. Both finished works, as well as works created on site can be presented at the festival. The festival is an open space to open space which encourages trying, exploring and discovering new paths.

Values

We stand for more diversity, for more sensuality and for the radical questioning of the self.

We are looking for artists in the following areas:

modern dance / visual arts (installation / painting / sculpture / projection / light) / theater (realism) / magician / architecture (experimental buildings) / music (experimental to expressive)

FINANCE

The fee is agreed with the respective artists.
Accommodation, meals and travel costs are provided.
Furthermore, any resulting material costs are covered.
